IS ROMNEY'S CONVERSION AUTHENTIC?

Gov. Romney's past record is not pro-life. Where do we go from here? Dr. John Willke was President of National Right to Life for many years. Today he is President and Publisher of Life Issues Connector, a pro-life newsletter.

In his June 2012 issue, Dr. Willke reminds us that "about halfway through his first term as Governor, Romney announced that he was opposed to embryonic stem cell research, and he...vetoed a bill making the 'Morning After,' Plan B contraceptive pills available. In the same year, he declared that he was pro-life."

On November 9, 2004, Romney met with a scientist from the Harvard Stem Cell Institute who said, "Look you don't have to think about...stem cell research as a moral issue because we kill the embryos after fourteen days." This impacted Romney and his staff, as they saw it recognizing that such ESCR in fact was killing what they were convinced were human lives already in existence. The researcher later disputed that he used the word "kill."

In February 2005, Romney consulted William B. Hurlbut, a physician and professor at Stanford University Medical Center Neuroscience Institute. Dr. Hurlbut is a dedicated pro-lifer. The two of them met for several hours, discussing the dynamics of conception, embryonic development and the repercussions of [research exploring early pregnancy].

Dr. Hurlbut said later, "he (Romney) recognized that this was not a matter of purely abstract theory or merely pragmatic governance, but a crucial moment in how we are to regard nascent human life and the broader meaning of medicine in the service of life."

Dr. Willke states, "...the Institute is a 501(c)(3) organization, (and) "this article should not be construed as an endorsement of Gov. Romney's candidacy but...a testament to the fact that we believe Mitt Romney is truly pro-life."

IT'S NOT A POPULARITY CONTEST

A Baptist Church in SC is getting criticism for a marquee saying, "Ultimate Racism: Abortionists Target Black Babies." The church is led by Pastor Patrick Dye, who is white but says he has an obligation to speak out about how the abortion industry targets black Americans. Call the office for information on black genocide.

LIFE CHAIN SUNDAY – OCTOBER 7

Be ready. Now is the time to gather the names, addresses and phone numbers for YOUR local churches and send them information about the event. Many pastors don't know about Life Chain; others may be waiting to be invited. Get his support. When he goes to neighborhood ministerial meetings he can answer questions and show his enthusiasm for this "one step out of the pew" to witness and pray for our youngest, most vulnerable brothers and sisters. Call Mary Catherine Scanlon, 412-781-6550 for information.

OFFICE COMMUNICATION CHANGES

Since 1974 pro-lifers could pick up the phone and connect to 412-531-1166 for a message or a lobbying alert. At that time, Eileen Vogel ran our "pro-life line" from her home. Today people are using computers for pro-life news. We now put our messages on Facebook or our WEB page www.pcuc.org.

Also, we've made a few minor adjustments to our phone system that will save money but not change our services. Thank you to all the faithful callers over the years. We'll still try to get information to you as quickly as possible through the newsletter and on-line.

BILLBOARDS MOVED TO NEW LOCATIONS

Our beautiful pro-life billboards are in new locations. When you see them, please pray for moms and babies and for the generous people whose donations keep these reminders on our roads. When you call 1-800-848-LOVE they can give you help from the specific area where that billboard is located.

Currently there are billboards at the following areas:
East Pittsburgh, Wall, Braddock, Verona, West Mifflin (3), South Side, North Side and North Hills.

LOSS OF PRO-LIFE PIONEERS

Irene Regotti was an early vice president of PCUC. She chaired the East Hills Chapter of PCUC, and offered her home for pro-life meetings and activities. After her husband Alfred died, she moved to CA to be nearer to her children. She died on June 2 at Manhattan Beach, CA.

Dr. Lawrence Marcella delivered 7,308 babies at Jameson Memorial & St. Francis Hospitals. In the U.S. Army he served as a medical aide for returning veterans. He cared for many of them without regard for their ability to pay. He was married to Diane, chairman of PCUC in New Castle. He died on June 7, 2012

Irene Donovan defended life with strong words and fearless actions. She (r. in photo) sat at the doors of local abortion mills, willing to be taken to jail as a witness for Life. She liked to golf. She died on June 24.

TRIBUTE FROM BIRTHRIGHT

Rita Cunningham was one of the seven original founders of what became PCUC. Not long after our founding, Rita “branched out” by founding Birthright of Pittsburgh, a pregnancy support center. Rita and her husband Jim (center) were rearing ten children. They lived in the center of our city’s university centers. Rita died on March 5.

On June 3, 2012, Paula Smith, Birthright’s director, as well as Rita’s relatives, friends and members of the pro-life family gathered at St. Paul Cathedral to dedicate a lovely rose bush to honor Rita’s life and accomplishments. The dedication was followed by an Art Show and Social.

DEATH BEFORE BIRTH

If total health care is provided, it will be unfair to deny it to people with pre-existing conditions. People with physical or mental disabilities must be given care equal to that of the rest of the population. Today 90% of babies found in utero to have Down syndrome are killed before they are born, and recently we learned there is a “scholarly” movement to allow babies to be aborted post-birth, if they are found to be “unfit.” Anyone who thinks this could not happen has not read the history of the 20th century. We all must defend life.

VATICAN RULES IN FAVOR OF FR. FRANK

RELEASE FROM PRIESTS FOR LIFE, June 27, 2012: We are happy to announce that the Vatican has upheld Fr. Frank Pavone’s appeal and has declared that Fr. Pavone is not now nor has ever been suspended. Fr. Pavone remains a priest in good standing all over the world. Jerry Horn, who is Fr. Frank’s colleague at PFL said, “At last, the good news we’ve been waiting for has arrived! There’s so much going on right now. That’s why we’re elated to receive the good news from the Vatican regarding Fr. Frank’s status.

PRO-LIFERS MUST TAKE THE LEAD!

Since the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of Obamacare on June 28, an urgent need exists to pass Obamacare abortion opt-out legislation, S.B. 3 and H.B. 1977. Both the PA Senate and the PA House have passed these bills, which are exactly the same. The Governor has pledged to sign it. ACTION: If your State Rep. voted for H.B. 1977, ask him/her to commit to sign an open letter to Rep. Mike Turzai, House Majority Leader, that asks him to run S.B. 3 in the House in September.

The letter follows, or you may compose your own:

An Open Letter to Rep. Mike Turzai
the PA House Majority Leader

Please Stop Obamacare Abortion
Subsidies as Soon as Possible

Dear Representative Turzai:

Please run S.B. 3 on the PA House Floor in September 2012. This legislation would stop subsidies for abortion on the PA Health Insurance Exchange to be established under Obamacare in 2014.

As Members of the PA House, we believe that it is more important to stop abortion subsidies in PA than for the legislation that stops such subsidies to be a House Bill. Sincerely,

The HHS “Preventative Services” Mandate Goes to Court

Part 2: Plan of Attack

By Vanda Raszewski, J.D.

In the last newsletter we discussed the parties and status of some of the cases filed against the HHS Mandate in “Part 1” of this article. Since then, 12 more lawsuits were filed simultaneously in late May, many of the plaintiffs being various Catholic Dioceses. The prominent claims will be explained below, as well as some commentary on the likelihood of success.

The first set of claims fall under the First Amendment. The First Amendment contains three relevant parts; the Establishment Clause, the Free Exercise Clause, and the Freedom of Speech Clause. The U.S. Supreme Court has established specific criteria that must be met. The parameters of what passes each part of each test is interpreted based on past Supreme Court Cases, so the language of the test has a legal meaning beyond the normal definition of the words.

Establishment Clause

Under the Establishment Clause, the most likely applicable test (called the “Lemon Test”) requires the plaintiff to prove that either: (1) the law has no secular purpose, (2) the primary effect is either to advance or inhibit religion, or (3) the law fosters an excessive government entanglement with religion. (As a word of caution, there is no assurance as to how the Supreme Court will eventually assess this claim because in recent years the Supreme Court has been critical of the Lemon Test.)

Many of these cases allege that because the mandate coerces individuals and organization to violate deeply-held religious beliefs under the threat of heavy fines and penalties, that this means that “the primary effect is either to advance or inhibit religion.” For example, According to Priests for Life, an organization of 50-60 employees, the penalties they would suffer in one year total $2 million dollars. [<http://www.priestsforlife.org/articles/4190-catholic-group-responds-to-obamas-desperate-attempt>].

They also allege that the government mandate will be fostering “an excessive government entanglement with religion,” when undertaking the process of determining whether an organization meets the religious exemption, and the process of determining whether the organization only employs & serves those who share religious beliefs. The case that established this portion of the test, Lemon v. Kurtzman, found that when a law required “comprehensive, discriminating, and continuing surveillance” to ensure compliance, it “fostered an excessive government entanglement with religion.”

Free Exercise Clause

The Free Exercise Clause is a promising claim. To begin with, the court must first determine if a law is “neutral and generally applicable.” If the court says “Yes” then the law will most likely be upheld. However, if the court answers “No” then the government must meet the strictest standard of judicial scrutiny. This means the government must show that the law (1) uses the least restrictive means in order to achieve (2) a compelling government interest. The good news is that the government has failed to meet this standard in any of the 15 cases of this type brought since 1990. [http://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract\_id=897360]

The cases have two approaches to this claim. Many of the first cases filed argue that both the ACA provision that contains the “Requirement to Maintain Minimal Essential Coverage”

(<http://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/26/5000A>), and the HHS Mandate, are not neutral or generally applicable. The case brought by Priests for Life is one example, citing the fact that both the ACA and Mandate provide numerous exemptions as well as granting individualized waivers.

Many of the cases filed in late May allege that only the HHS Mandate fails to be “neutral or generally applicable.” The difference in result is significant. If the ACA provision is unconstitutional as a violation of the Free Exercise Clause, the court may have to decide the separate issue of whether that provision is severable from the entire law. This could mean all or part of the ACA is struck down.

However, if only the HHS Mandate is struck down, the “religious exemption” portion of the ACA’s “Requirement to Maintain Minimal Essential Coverage” would still require an “individual” (including organizations) to provide evidence that they sufficiently adhere to a certain religious groups’ tenets, after which the HHS will use that to decide if the individual is religious enough to have their conscience protected with an exemption. (<http://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/26/1402> - see (g)(1).)

JERICO MARCH/40 DAYS RALLY

Nikki Bruni, coordinator for “40 Days for Life” invites YOU to the opening rally for the fall “40 Days for Life” Campaign. We will gather at Phil’s Parking Lot, .04 mile west on Liberty Ave. from Planned Parenthood at 2:00 pm on Saturday, September 22.

At 1:00 pm, prior to the “40 Days” Kickoff Rally, there will be a Jericho March around Planned Parenthood. It will be a special time for prayer, reminiscent of the sixth chapter of Joshua. Everyone is invited to join this plea for God’s help. We will meet at Phil’s Parking Lot and walk around the block seven times, praying every step of the way.

BOARD ELECTIONS AND OFFICERS

In June, PCUC welcomed five news members: Claudia Berthold, Jean Brinzer, Paul Francis, Claire King and Carolyn Sopher. All are veteran activists who need no "break-in" period. Our new President is Claudia Berthold (with staffers Joan and Kathleen). She is a past President whose family were regulars in front of Women's Health Services in their former location.

ARE YOU REGISTERED TO VOTE

If you don't vote, you have no right to complain about the government you get. You cannot vote if you're not registered. Call your country elections department for all your forms. Talk to your pastor and tell him YOU will do the leg work for a registration drive at your church.

BUT WHO WILL READ IT?

The package insert for the oral contraceptive ORTHO-CYCLEN/ORTHO TRI-CYCLEN (norgestimate/ethinyl estradiol) is a two-sided, narrow-margined, six-point type sheet, 12-1/4" x 20-7/8". With graphs, statistics, and chemical diagrams, it provides the pharmacology, precautions, dosage, overdosage, adverse reactions, drug interactions, warnings, contraindications, how to take it, who should not take it, estimated risk of death and what to do is if you miss a dose. And of course, health benefits from oral contraceptives. We just wonder how many women read this important information before they decide to ingest the pill. Source: Package insert for product named above.

LUNCH WITH DR. KING

Alveda King, niece of Dr. Martin Luther King, will be the guest speaker at "Lunch with Dr. King," sponsored by the New Castle Chapter of PCUC. Dr. King is a powerful voice for women who have been hurt by abortion. She considers the pro-life movement a continuation of the civil rights movement. We will have more details in our September/October Newsletter. ☺
